The Anglo-Saxon Chronicle Extract

Anno 455. Her Hengest and Horsa fuhton wiþ Wyrtgeorne þæm cyninge in þære stowe þe is genemned Æglesþrep and his broþor Horsan man ofslog. And æfter þæm Hengest feng to rice and Æsc his sunu.

Translation

The year 455. At this time Hengest and Horsa fought with Vortigern the king in the locality named Aylesford and his brother Horsa was struck down. And after, Hengest and Æsc his son inherited the realm.

Even the translation sounds strange and doesn't quite make sense. Can you change it to 21st-century English so that it reads better?

Beowulf Extract

Wæs se grimma gæst Grendel haten, mære mearcstapa, se þe moras heold fen ond fæsten; fifelcynnes eard wonsæli wer weardode hwile siþðan him Scyppend forscrifen hæfde.

Translation

That hated savage demon was called Grendel,

Notorious border-crosser who belongs in the swamp,

fen and prison; native of the land of sea monsters

The unhappy creature occupied for some time

Since the Creator had doomed him.

Can you take the translation and make it sound more like 21st-century English? Use your imagination.
